Story Fast And Furious 8 is not set in the exact same timeline as its predecessors but instead takes place in the present day, after the events of Furious 7, where the team is now a division of CTU. It starts with Dominic Toretto (Vin Diesel) giving his resignation to his father, Brian O'Conner (Paul Walker), in order to start a new life in Europe with Mia Toretto (Jordana Brewster). Brian disagrees, only after they witness a terrorist attack and CTU (counter-terrorism unit) informs them that the attack was orchestrated by a former member of the team who has been taken into custody, did he agree. They arrive in Rome to find their family being surrounded by armed guards led by Roman Pearce (Tyrese Gibson), who makes the terms that they must pay a $5 million ransom to a terrorist known as vichy, who they must find. the location of Letty's grandmother, Gigi, who has been under the influence of vichy's drugs. While in the process of searching for Letty's grandmother, they are tracked by Raynar and his team, and they hold them as hostages. They are then confronted by Deckard Shaw (Jason Statham), who blames Dom for the death of his son. Brian doesn't take too kindly to this, and they confront vichy, only to be told that they must pay, or they all must die. During the argument, Letty fatally wounds Deckard. When Dominic releases the women, vichy responds by killing them, and the brothers evade, while following Deckard's team. They tell Miles Teller (Miles Millar) to go after Shaw while they regroup to follow Deckard.
